

MultUnit Buildings - Exhibit B

We were asked by the owner/developer to design and oversee all weather resistant details for about 200 new condominiums. These included among other things, all windows, decks over living spaces, and both public and private walk ways with landscaped /planted areas. Even under the scrutiny of a construction consultant hired to find mistakes, our work was found to be of superior quality.

It is difficult to build decks and planted landscaping over living areas. We were hired to design and implement this challenging waterproofing correctly.

The plans for these high end condominiums called for extensive internal landscaping.

Proper drainage and thorough waterproofing is critical for deck and landscaping over living areas systems to work correctly.
