Re: Thoughts on Myles

Dear Allison,

You asked me some time ago to put my previous thoughts about Myles on letterhead:

My opinion is that he is a fine man and does his job with conviction and a thorough attention to detail. Unlike many other experts, Myles has his eye on the resolution at all times. I've seen other experts needlessly cause delays in litigation, but I've never observed this from Myles. Perhaps most valuable of all, he will not take a position that can later be discredited and cause embarrassment to your case. He has a much better view of the role of an expert than most experts. Sadly, most experts think that their role is to serve as an advocate. Thankfully, Myles views his role as getting to the truth.

Sincerely,

Gary Redenbacher
